Summary

Product web developer building modern, accessible web applications with strong UX sensibility and operational thinking. Ships responsive, performant interfaces backed by clean APIs and real deployment pipelines. Focused on delivering value through products people actually use.

Experience

Chief Architect

2026 — Present

Kopano Labs

- Architected product systems across Bookit 5s Arena, KasiLink, and Kopano Context (KC) with Next.js 15, TypeScript, and MongoDB Atlas (SA region)
- Defined resilient delivery patterns for mobile-first products shaped by load-shedding and POPIA data-residency constraints
- Built multi-agent orchestration (Cassy swarm console, bracket protocol, kc_guard proof bar) with bounded rollout and JSONL evidence
- Set platform direction across Turborepo monorepo, MCP-based systems, and edge/offline-first PWA runtimes

Freelance Software Developer

2023 — Present

Ama-Phu Entertainment / Ama-Phu Enterprises / 5's Arena

- Delivered the Bookit 5's Arena booking platform as a production product surface — not a brochure site
- Shipped web properties including the 5's Arena blog, public portfolio builds, and entertainment profile surfaces
- Worked across the wider Ama-Phu client ecosystem connecting venue logistics with web product delivery
- Handled design, frontend, backend integration, deployment, and documentation across live client-facing work

Director

2021 — Present

AMAPHU (Pty) Ltd

- Registered and operate an entertainment and technology company bridging African art with engineering
- Managed production logistics for live events, stage coordination, and digital asset pipelines
